

Big Bearded Bookseller

Independent Publishers

A compilation of independent publishers in the U.K. and Ireland

About Big Bearded Bookseller	86

Preface

This book started as a collection of Twitter publishing accounts added to a twitter list in 2019, the idea for a book started to grow from there. I initially wanted to have a list that was flexible and changeable, so as the publishing world grew and changed so did the list . It also changed as I discovered more publishers on Twitter. That list was also the basis for a webpage and Google Map on the Independent Bookshops blog.

Both the twitter list and webpage worked well but there seemed to be some call for more information about the publishers on them. The Publisher Profile was developed to try and fill this need for that information, it was initially a monthly feature on the blog but developed to be something that was attached to as many of the publishers on the list as possible.

Publishers were then asked several questions to help flesh out their profile:

- When did you start publishing?
- What made you want to start an independent publisher?
- What is your background in the book industry?
- What genres do you specialise in?
- Where are you based?
- Do you have a submission window, if so when?
- What is your submission procedure?
- Who are you? (team photo if possible)
- Please let us know about some of your books.
- Social media and internet links please?
- And any other photos you would like to share.

From these we compiled a post of standard format and it is this format that will be in this document.

Once we had been doing this feature for a while we were asked whether there was a separate document that compiled all the details from the Twitter list, publisher list on the blog, and the Publisher Profile posts. There wasn't and when we asked what people most wanted from a single document rather than the blog they replied; simplicity of use.

Again I'll make a call for details of any independent publishers that I've missed, or if you're an independent publisher I haven't featured yet in a profile, contact us at contact@bigbeardedbookseller.com with details and any answers to the questions above.

I hope you find this guide useful.
